

What is Botswana's energy policy?

Botswana's energy policy is anchored on three key aspects - increasing access to electricity through the Rural Electrification Project, security, and stabilization of the power supply, and onboarding Independent Power Producers, especially within the Solar PV sector (BPC 2020).

How much fuel does Botswana use a month?

As of 2019, Botswana had an average monthly fuel consumption of 100 million liters (Gamba 2019). Botswana Oil Limited, the state-owned company charged with the security of fuel supply and management of the Government's strategic fuel storage facilities, reported trading in a combined 87.3 million liters of fuel in the 2017/2018 year (BOL 2019).

Why is the solar PV subsector important in Botswana?

The solar PV subsector is of particular importance within the broader renewable energy policy, owing to Botswana's tremendous potential for solar energy utilization. There are extensive areas where solar energy projects can be developed, including in the rural areas or large-scale solar farms.

What is the Botswana Power Corporation doing?

The Botswana Power Corporation is undertaking key projects that will expand the power grid and stabilize the power supply. The BPC has laid out coherent plans to improve access to electricity and to diversify the energy mix.

How much power does Botswana generate a year?

There are two diesel operating stations - Orapa and Matshelagabedi, which serve the primary function of emergency power supply or when the Morupule plants are undergoing planned maintenance (BPC 2020) (Fig. 2). Taking a deeper look at historical power generation figures, Botswana's annual generation has plateaued around the 3700-4000 GWh range.

Can Botswana generate enough solar power?

With an annual Direct Normal Irradiation of 3000 kWh/m²/a, Botswana has a huge potential to generate enough solar power to meet its domestic demand and export to neighboring countries (International Trade Administration 2021). Overall, the country gets more than 3200 hours of sunshine per year.
