Why should you buy a Jaeger LeCoultre Master Ultra Thin Moon?

It also helps that the moon is highly polished to reflect even the lightest levels of light which completely grabs your attention every time you check your watch. The dials on the Jaeger LeCoultre Master Ultra Thin Moon are purely put a smile on face. Our favorite is the silver/grey enamel dial.

How much does a Jaeger LeCoultre Master ultra thin cost?

The Jaeger LeCoultre Master Ultra Thin has an MSRP cost of $9,850 for the stainless steel models. On the pre-owned market, this watch can be purchased for a considerable discount. Pre-owned discounts can be sometimes found for 25% off MSRP. We hope that our Jaeger LeCoultre Master Ultra Thin Moon review has provided valuable insight.

How much does a Jaeger LeCoultre Complication Watch cost?

This watch by JLC has a simple yet elegant design and is considered a masterpiece with its exquisite finishing. With a retail price of $9,850, the Jaeger LeCoultre Master Ultra Thin Moon isn't the least expensive lunar complication watch but might have the best value. It's no secret that Jaeger LeCoultre produces some stunning timepieces.

Is Jaeger-LeCoultre's Master Ultra Thin Moon enamel a 'Take-Your-Bre'?

With the new Master Ultra Thin Moon Enamel, Jaeger-LeCoultre has pulled off quite a feat: it has transformed a quietly beautiful and discreetly elegant design into a take-your-breath-away showstopper. And it has done so without losing even a milligram of the class and refinement that has defined the model since it was first introduced in 2012.
